

The 14th IEEJ Global Energy Webinar

On July 13th, we are honored to welcome prominent experts from International Energy Agency (IEA) to offer the 14th IEEJ Global Energy Webinar featuring “IEA World Energy Investment 2021” and “IEA Gas 2021”.

Firstly, “IEA World Energy Investment 2021” is this year’s edition of “World Energy Investment report” which is IEA’s annual benchmark analysis of investment and financing across all areas of energy supply, efficiency, and so forth. The 6th edition focuses on the following two key questions:

Whether the growing momentum among governments and investors to accelerate clean energy transitions is translating into an actual uptick in capital expenditures on clean energy projects.

Whether the energy investment response to the economic crisis caused by the Covid-19 pandemic will be broad-based.

Furthermore, together with this report, IEA published a special report, “Financing Clean Energy Transitions in Emerging and Developing Economies” which aims to address the challenge of mobilising investment and finance to support clean energy transitions in the emerging countries. In the webinar, you can also expect to hear about the key findings of this special report.

Secondly, IEA is planning to release “IEA Gas 2021” soon. This annual benchmark report provides a detailed analysis of recent natural gas market developments, assesses the impact of the Covid-19 crisis in the short to medium term and discusses the main drivers and uncertainties to future gas supply and demand.

In the upcoming event, from the prominent experts of IEA, you can expect for informative insights about both the energy investment challenges and the natural gas market developments.
